

Development & Communications Manager

Newly created position

Road Trauma Support Services Victoria is a leading community based not for profit based organisation providing specialist support for people affected by road trauma following a transport crash. Each year they provide over 1,600 free face to face and phone counselling sessions as well as a range of support services to people affected by grief and trauma following a transport crash, be they drivers, survivors, witnesses, passers-by or family members.

Reporting directly to the CEO the successful candidate will be responsible for developing financial returns for the organization through new corporate partnerships, sponsorships, major gifts and commercial opportunities. In addition you will be responsible for raising the profile of the organization through maximizing branding and media opportunities and supporting the Education and Counseling services in the development and implementation of effective marketing and communication strategies.

With a proven background in developing and sustaining partnerships with the commercial sector, you will also draw on your experience in drawing funds from philanthropic trusts and foundations. Tertiary qualifications in Business Development, Marketing, Public Relations or a related commercial activity or experience in fundraising and strategic communication for a non profit entity is required for this role. Outstanding interpersonal skills and the capacity to work autonomously and as part of a team are also essential as is a keen desire to form an integral part of a dynamic non profit organization.

If you are looking for a diverse Development and Communication Management role that has a cross section of strategic and operational responsibility this could be the opportunity you have been looking for.
