

Road Trauma Support Services

Road Trauma Support Services (RTSS) is a state-wide counselling, education and support service specialising in the impact of road trauma. It is the only organisation of its kind in Victoria.

We provide services across Victoria including:

- Free, professional face-to-face and telephone counselling
- Support options
- Educational program

Our counselling and support services are provided free of charge to bereaved family members, friends and colleagues, injured people and their carers, drivers, passengers, witnesses and people first on scene.

Participants thoughts

Realising it has nothing to do with a lost licence or wrecked car, it's about the people who are affected by your choices.

The accounts of the impact of road trauma in somebody's life from a personal perspective.

Having to really think what would have happened if I killed someone.

The talks from the volunteers put road trauma into perspective. Teaches you about what could happen if you made the wrong choice.

Road Trauma Awareness Seminar (RTAS)

The 2.5 hour seminar is designed to educate drivers on the potential and actual outcomes of traffic offences and the reality of road trauma. During the seminar participants hear first-hand from a volunteer guest speaker directly affected by road trauma as well as from a member of the emergency services. Throughout the seminar participants look at their behaviour, attitudes and thought processes in order to modify them to reflect and model safer driving experiences.

The Seminar

Melbourne - once per month at each location

- weeknights/ weekends

Regional - held every 2-3 months each location
